Dear Ms. Bowman:

As part of implementation of Plan-it-Allen, the City of Fort Wayne, in partnership with various southeast residents and stakeholders, have collaborated to develop an updated strategy document focused on to enhancing the quality of life for neighborhoods and businesses in Southeast Fort Wayne.

The Southeast Strategy Update is a subarea plan that builds on the successes from the 2007 Southeast Area Development Strategy and takes a fresh approach to identifying opportunities for commercial and residential investment. The update originated through a request from the Southeast Area Neighborhood Partnership.

The Strategy Update is a 10 year plan that provides recommendations and action steps that focus on economic development, housing, transportation and infrastructure, community pride, public spaces and zoning. The updated plan includes guiding principles and policy recommendations which provide guidance and direction to various city boards, commissions, and other decision makers.

As with previous Plan-it Allen amendments, resolution R-78-20 initiating the process of an amendment to the Comprehensive Plan was approved by Common Council on October 13, 2020. This resolution directs the Plan Commission to hold a public hearing as part of the amendment process. We would like for the Southeast Strategy Update to be placed on the December 7, 2020 Plan Commission Public hearing agenda for consideration of the plan's guiding principles and policies as an amendment to the Comprehensive Plan. Planning & Policy staff will assist in preparing the Staff Report and any other required documentation required for the public hearing.

If you should have any questions please feel free to contact me.
Thank you for your cooperation.

SOUTHEAST STRATEGY UPDATE

BACKGROUND

The Southeast Strategy Update is a comprehensive sub-area plan focused on re-investing in Fort Wayne's southeast quadrant of the City. Developed over the past year and a half by the City of Fort Wayne's Community Development Division, the plan provides strategies for investing in commercial and housing growth, building community, and improving the quality of life for southeast residents. The Strategy's scope and recommendations were shaped by public engagement and an advisory committee comprised of members of the Southeast Area Partnership along with other southeast Fort Wayne leaders.

The Strategy is built around five topic areas: Community & Pride, Economic Development & Revitalization, Housing & Neighborhoods, Public Spaces & Interconnectivity, and Transportation & Infrastructure. The Strategy Update includes guiding principles and policy recommendations which provide guidance and direction to various city boards, commissions, and other decision makers. The plan also includes specific action steps for each policy; which identify individual projects and initiatives.

The recommendations in this strategy set the stage for building community pride, and fostering continued investment in southeast Fort Wayne. This will be achieved through a multi-year process of implementing dozens of programs and projects. The strategy requires community support and its success relies on the perseverance of multiple City departments and partner agencies and organizations such as the Southeast Area Partnership and Greater Fort Wayne Inc.; along with the support of the non-profit and private sectors. The recommendations of the plan allow for flexibility in implementation so that improvements can be made incrementally based on funding availability and community priorities.

THE BENEFITS

The Southeast Strategy Update builds on the successes of the 2007 Southeast Area Development Strategy continuing its focus on housing and neighborhoods by emphasizing the need for increasing the diversity of housing types and choices, along with improving connectivity and access to neighborhoods.

The strategy update places greater emphasis on economic development issues such as job training, support for struggling entrepreneurs, and public and private partnerships to support and grow local businesses. The strategy recognizes southeast residents' need for access to retail and services such as restaurants, healthcare, and groceries that offer healthy and affordable foods.

The strategy also identifies four commercial corridors and nodes as part of a first phase of focused re-investment. Each of these areas already have existing assets and community energy. The goal is to build on this momentum by concentrating programming and capital resources to these areas. Reinvestment in these commercial corridors and nodes will benefit surrounding neighborhoods and adjacent commercial areas.

The strategy serves as a road map and guide for community leaders, policy makers, and investors as they partner with southeast residents and business owners to implement the dozens of programs and projects. It was developed to take a holistic approach at re-investing in southeast by strengthening neighborhoods, promoting community identity and pride, and supporting small businesses. Other quadrants of the city have outpaced southeast in re-investment and development. It is important that we address this disparity and look at ways we can increase the current level of quality maintenance and support provided to southeast residents and businesses to ensure they have the same quality of life as the rest of Fort Wayne.

COMMUNITY PLANNING PROCESS

In 2019, the Southeast Area Partnership requested an update to the City's 2007 Southeast Area Development Strategy. Community Development Planning & Policy staff, under the guidance of the Southeast Area Partnership and southeast's elected officials, assembled an advisory committee. This advisory committee consisted of seventeen community representatives including Southeast residents, business owners, community leaders, religious leaders, and elected officials from various backgrounds and demographic groups. The Southeast Advisory Committee would help guide and shape the development of the Southeast Strategy Update.

The strategy update is the culmination of almost two years of analysis and input from the southeast community. During that time, the Southeast Advisory Committee met with Community Development staff, along with other City department staff to review and discuss existing conditions, explore best practices and collect and incorporate ideas from southeast residents.

Public input was collected through a variety of methods including an intensive weeklong public workshop (charrette) which yielded over 200 attendees. Multiple focus groups and stakeholder interviews, along with an online survey resulted in valuable new ideas and validation of preliminary recommendations. The Advisory Committee and staff used the information learned through the data collection and public input phases to develop and refine the strategy's recommendations.

Between mid-August to mid-September 2020, the Southeast Strategy Update's draft policies and recommendations were available online for public comment. The public comment period began with a Facebook Live event sponsored by City Councilwoman Sharon Tucker who hosted a discussion between neighborhood leaders and Planning & Policy staff. Versions of the draft recommendations were available in English, Spanish, and Burmese. Physical copies of the drafts were available for comment at four public locations throughout Southeast. Additional comments were accepted via email. During the course of two weeks over 200 comments were collected.

IMPLEMENTATION

Successful implementation of the Southeast Strategy Update will require a collaborative partnership between the City and the Southeast Area Partnership. It will also require the support and leadership of various city departments, local and regional economic development agencies and chambers, as well as other southeast stakeholders and community organizations. Only through a collaborative approach can the strategy be successfully implemented.

Measuring the success of any plan is traditionally based on the achievement of its policies through decision making and implementation of defined action steps. While the policies provide guidance for decision making processes, the completion of action steps will be the benchmarks of success. The adoption of the guiding principles and policies of the plan as an amendment to the Plan-it Allen Comprehensive Plan ensures that the needs of the community are considered. The action steps will not be adopted under the proposed amendment as they provide specific tasks to implement the guiding principles and policies and are intended to remain flexible and may change over time.

An extensive implementation matrix highlighting over 150 individual projects, programs, and initiatives has been developed to assist with understanding how to move forward with implementation. In addition to listing the action steps that are necessary for achieving the Strategy's policies, the matrix identifies the champions and partners who will be instrumental in carrying out the actions. The matrix is not a static guide for implementation; it will change as opportunities arise, tasks are completed, projects are rejected, and new approaches discovered.

Kim Bowman, Director
Allen County Dept. of Planning Services
200 E. Berry Street, Suite 150
Fort Wayne, IN 46802

Dear Ms. Bowman:

As part of implementation of Plan-it-Allen, the City of Fort Wayne, in partnership with various southeast residents and stakeholders, have collaborated to develop an updated strategy document focused on to enhancing the quality of life for neighborhoods and businesses in Southeast Fort Wayne.

The Southeast Strategy Update is a subarea plan that builds on the successes from the 2007 Southeast Area Development Strategy and takes a fresh approach to identifying opportunities for commercial and residential investment. The update originated through a request from the Southeast Area Neighborhood Partnership.

The Strategy Update is a 10 year plan that provides recommendations and action steps that focus on economic development, housing, transportation and infrastructure, community pride, public spaces and zoning. The updated plan includes guiding principles and policy recommendations which provide guidance and direction to various city boards, commissions, and other decision makers.

As with previous Plan-it Allen amendments, resolution R-78-20 initiating the process of an amendment to the Comprehensive Plan was approved by Common Council on October 13, 2020. This resolution directs the Plan Commission to hold a public hearing as part of the amendment process. We would like for the Southeast Strategy Update to be placed on the December 7, 2020 Plan Commission Public hearing agenda for consideration of the plan's guiding principles and policies as an amendment to the Comprehensive Plan. Planning & Policy staff will assist in preparing the Staff Report and any other required documentation required for the public hearing.

If you should have any questions please feel free to contact me.
Thank you for your cooperation.

Sincerely,
